Addition of 12NC Numbers with Former Freescale Part Numbers

Information Notification

On December 7, 2015, Freescale Semiconductor Inc, became a wholly owned subsidiary of NXP Semiconductors N.V. As a result, on November 15, 2016 all change and discontinuance notices will include the NXP 12NC numbers in addition to the former Freescale part numbers. The 12NC is an internal NXP data identifier.

Also, on November 06, 2016 per General Announcement 17200, we began shipping products that will be identified using the NXP intermediate bar code label (PQ) as a replacement for the Freescale intermediate barcode label (MPN) to Americas sites which include North and South America customer locations. The NXP intermediate bar code label (PQ) will include both the 12NC number '(1P) Code' and former Freescale part number '(30P) Type'. See example in file section.

The remaining global customer locations will receive the NXP intermediate barcode labels beginning in February 2017.

Why do we issue this Information Notification

Merger of Freescale Semiconductor with NXP Semiconductors

Identification of Affected Products

The 12NC will be evident on the Sales History file and on the NXP (PQ) Intermediate Label.

Impact

no impact to the product's functionality anticipated.

The changes described will have NO impact to form, fit or function of the product The Sales History data as well as the NXP intermediate bar code label will now include the 12NC number.

Remarks

12NC numbers for material purchased/ordered in the last 3 years will be included along with the former Freescale part numbers on the attached sales history spreadsheet.
